Dear Applicant:

As information about how to prevent crime has increased and become more complex, crime prevention practitioners have been asked to participate in an ever-expanding number of training opportunities just to stay on the cutting edge of the field. Many of them have assumed much larger roles in their individual departments and organizations and have moved beyond the provision of basic crime prevention services.

The National Crime Prevention Association (NCPA) recognizes that many crime prevention practitioners have reached a new level of professional development. Toward this end, the NCPA, through a generous grant from the Bureau of Justice Assistance, with assistance from crime prevention practitioners across the nation, has created a national certification program, the National Crime Prevention Specialist (NCPS) certification designed to help professionalize the field of crime prevention. The current Board of Directors of NCPA should be commended for the hard work that went into bringing this certification program forward.

Any individual with an interest in crime prevention, who works or volunteers, in government or in the private sector, can apply to become a National Crime Prevention Specialist.

Please review the application materials enclosed with this letter. A non-refundable application processing fee of $150.00 is required for the initial application. Renewal applications are subject to a $50.00 fee. Your certification (initial or renewed) is valid for 3 years.

This application must be notarized, and you should send copies of original documents. A Certification Guideline, complete with a point schedule and submission directions, is included in this packet. A copy of your resume and a letter of endorsement from an appropriate supervisory authority or NCPA member must also be included.

Once your application has been received by the NCPA Certification Committee, you will be notified by email.

Sincerely,

Joel Dhein
President

Ann M. Harkins
Executive Director

National Crime Prevention Association –National Crime Prevention Specialist Certification Guidelines

As knowledge about how to prevent crime has grown and become more complex, crime prevention practitioners have been asked to participate in an ever-increasing number of training opportunities just to stay on the cutting edge of the field. Many of them have assumed much larger roles in their individual departments and organizations and have moved beyond the provision of basic crime prevention services. The National Crime Prevention Association (NCPA) recognizes that many crime prevention practitioners have reached a new level of professional development. Toward this end, the NCPA, with support from BJA, with assistance from crime prevention practitioners across the nation, has established a national certification program, the National Crime Prevention Specialist (NCPS) certification, designed to further the professionalization of the crime prevention field.

A. Crime Prevention Defined

Crime prevention is defined as the anticipation, recognition, and appraisal of a crime risk and the initiation of some action to remove or reduce it. In practical application, crime prevention is a pattern of attitudes and behaviors directed both at reducing the threat of crime and enhancing the sense of safety and security, to influence positively the quality of life in our society, and to help develop environments where crime cannot flourish.

B. Eligibility

Any individual with an interest in crime prevention, who works or volunteers, in government or in the private sector, can apply to become a National Crime Prevention Specialist.

C. Benefits of National Crime Prevention Specialist Certification

- National Crime Prevention Specialist certificate
- National Crime Prevention Specialist certification card
- National Crime Prevention Specialist certification lapel pin
- Certification ribbon/medal for law enforcement personnel
- National Crime Prevention Specialist recognition letter sent to chief/sheriff or organization executive
- Name and organization of approved NCPS designations posted on NCPC/NCPA website.

D. Application Provisions – Please do not send originals.

1. Each applicant is responsible for providing appropriate documentation that will authenticate his/her application.
2. All documentation will be accepted at the discretion of the NCPA Certification Committee.
3. Endorsement of the application by an appropriate supervisory authority or by an NCPA member is required.
4. Each application must include a detailed resume for the applicant.

5. The applicant must be a member of the NCPA or submit a membership application with the National Crime Prevention Specialist application. Once an application is accepted, that person is a member of the NCPA and would then fall under the auspice of the NCPA By-laws. ($35 membership fee applies.)
6. The applicant must pay a fee of $150.00 for the National Crime Prevention Specialist (NCPS) certification application.
7. The applicant may claim points for a crime prevention training or experience only one time.

E. Waiver of Requirements

The NCPA Certification Committee retains the right to waive portions of the prescribed certification requirements when relevant crime prevention certifications awarded by recognized criminal justice or security organizations or by other state criminal justice agencies are provided.

F. Period of Certification

The period of certification for the National Crime Prevention Specialist (NCPS) is three (3) years.

G. Renewal Requirements

To renew certification, the National Crime Prevention Specialist will need to provide proof of an additional 300 points of earned certification points since the last certification. There is a 90-day grace period for renewal of certification. If certification lapses, a new National Crime Prevention Specialist (NCPS) application is required. The applicant applying for re-certification must be a current member of the NCPA.

The application fee for renewal is $50.00.

H. Documentation

The individual applicant is responsible for providing documentation that supports his/her application and demonstrates that he/she has met the certification qualification requirements. The applicant must provide training course certificates issued by approved or recognized training providers, training records from a recognized agency or organization, and other appropriate verifying documentation.

I. Certification Suspension

The National Crime Prevention Specialist certification will only be awarded to National Crime Prevention Association Members in Good Standing as defined in NCPA By-laws Article II, Section 5: Members in Good Standing.

If at any time, a National Crime Prevention Association member is suspended under the NCPA By-laws Article II, Section 3: Membership Suspension, this will automatically suspend his or her National Crime Prevention Specialist Certification. If the suspended NCPA Membership is restored to "Member in Good Standing," the suspended NCPS certification will also be restored.

J. Request for Reconsideration Process:

1. A denied applicant will have 90 days from the date of Executive Directors letter of denial to submit, in writing, via mail or e-mail, his or her request for reconsideration to the deficiencies documented by the Certification Committee.
2. If the application packet was determined to be incomplete, the applicant should have been advised upon the receipt of his or her packet. If all possible methods to contact the applicant via e-mail, phone, or letter regarding the noted deficiencies were unanswered, then the applicant will have 90 days to submit the needed documents.
3. Upon the receipt of an applicant request for reconsideration, the Executive Director of NCPA will scan all the documentation, covert it to a PDF file, and forward it with the original application file to the Certification Committee for further review and consideration.
4. The reviewing Certification Committee members will review the documentation in the same manner as described in the guidelines above. A new Certification Points Worksheet will be used.
5. All the submitted certification documents will be checked for accuracy and legitimacy. The applicants review for reconsideration document will be reviewed with consideration.

K. Resubmission:

1. An application for National Crime Prevention Specialist can only be made twice within a one year period.
 - a) A request for reconsideration shall not count as a second application when submitted within the 90 day time limit.
 - b) If no request for reconsideration is filed regarding the denial of the original application, then a second complete application can be filed at anytime within one year of the original date of the application. A second application cannot be submitted if a current application is under review or request for reconsideration.
 - c) If a third or subsequent applications is received by the NCPA Executive Director within one year of the original application, it will be deemed ineligible and returned to the applicant with a letter stating the reason and the next date of eligibility.
 - d) The timeline restarts on the filing of the new application in the next qualifying year (Example: Applicant Smith files original application of April 1, 2018. If he is denied NCPS designation, he can request for reconsideration within 90 days. If he does not request for reconsideration, he can apply a second time anytime between April 1, 2018, and April 1, 2019. If he applies on March 31, 2018, that would be his second application and he would have 90 days to request for reconsideration if he needs. Any subsequent application cannot be accepted until April 2, 2019, and no application can be accepted if there is already one under review or request for reconsideration.)

L. Levels of Certification

The certification process provides for two levels of certification. Level I recognizes the initiative of the beginning crime prevention practitioner and Level II recognizes the accomplishments of veteran prevention practitioners. Documented work experience may be substituted for the Level I 24-hour Basic or Introductory Crime Prevention training course requirements on a case-by-case basis as determined by the NCPA Certification Committee.

Level I Certification

- 500 points required for certification.
- Applicants must have completed a 24-hour Basic or Introductory Crime Prevention training course.

Level II Certification

- 1,000 points required for certification.
- Applicants must have completed a 40-hour Basic or Introductory Crime Prevention training course and an approved instructor development training course.

Advancing from a Level I to a Level II Certification will require an additional application that documents the additional qualifying 500 points to obtain the new level of certification.

The application fee for advancing from Level I to Level II is $50.00.
